THE WONDERFUL GENOESE RESIDENCES OF THE XVI CENTURY

Guided Tours of the Rolli Palaces, Unesco World Heritage

A guided tour dedicated to some of the most sumptuous residences built by the aristocratic Genoese families during the so called "Secolo d'Oro" (between the sixteenth and seventeenth century).

A group of private palaces transformed in a network of public hospitality houses, called Rolli, where kings, princes, diplomats, ambassadors were hosted during their state visits.

The "Rolli" were declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 2006.

Exclusive and elegantly decorated residences, which did not escape the eye of a fine artist as the great Flemish painter Rubens, who at the beginning of the XVII century published in a book the collection of drawings of these buildings as the residential model of the nobility. The Tour starts from the main hall of Palazzo Rosso, Via Garibaldi 18.
